

Under the Umbrella.

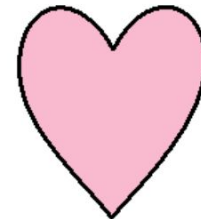

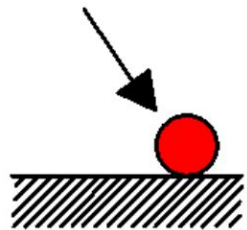

Up in the sky with the stars,

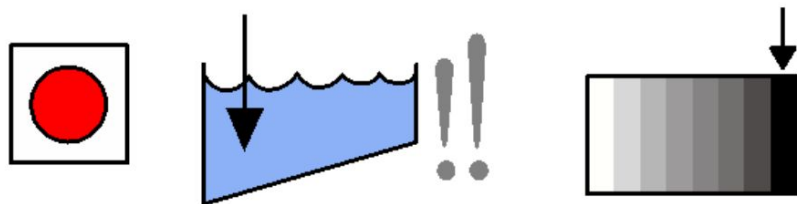

there's something you might not see...

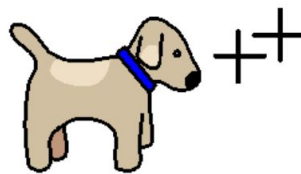

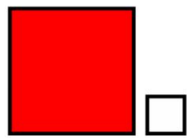

but over your head, just above

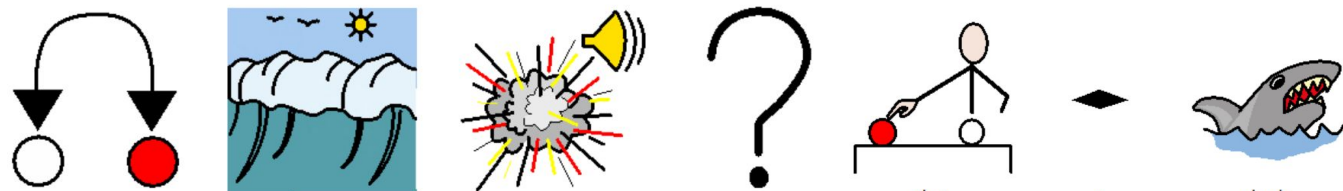

there's an umbrella to protect those we love

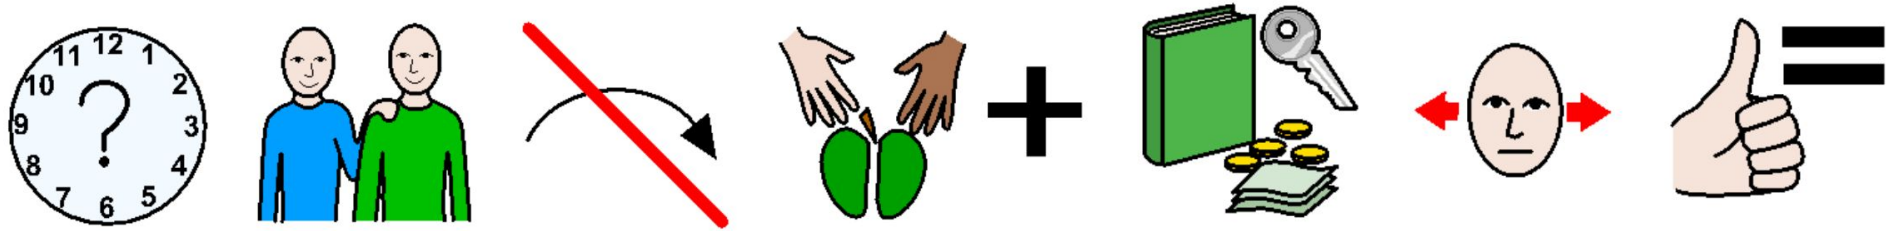

In deepest dark...

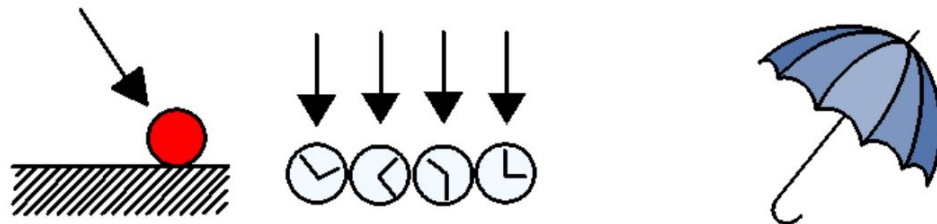

when big dogs bark

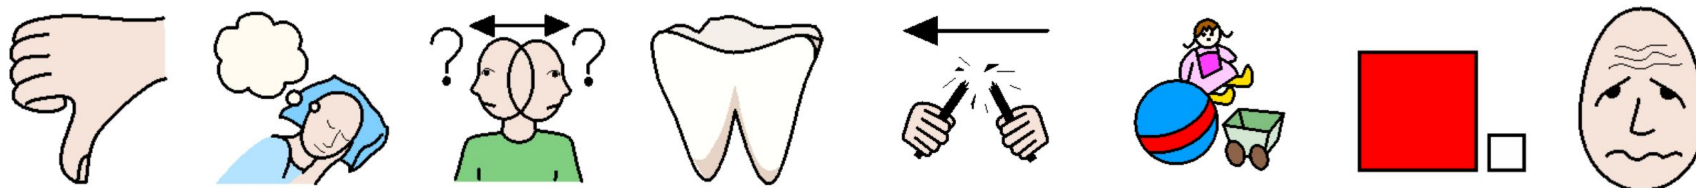

or waves crash loud. Is that a shark?

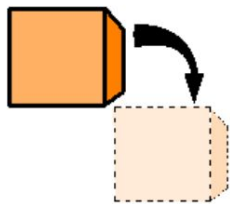

When friends won't share, and things aren't fair,

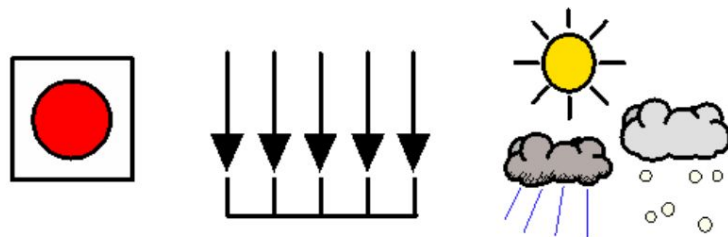

There's always the umbrella.

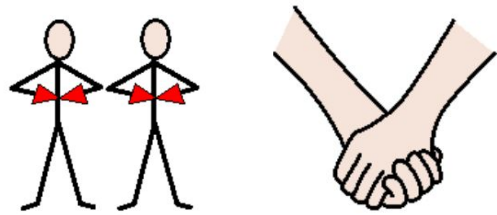

Bad dream, lost tooth, smashed toy, big worry...

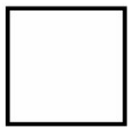

disappear in a flurry, under the umbrella.

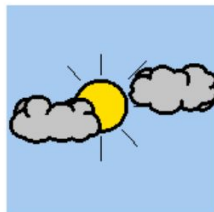

In every weather

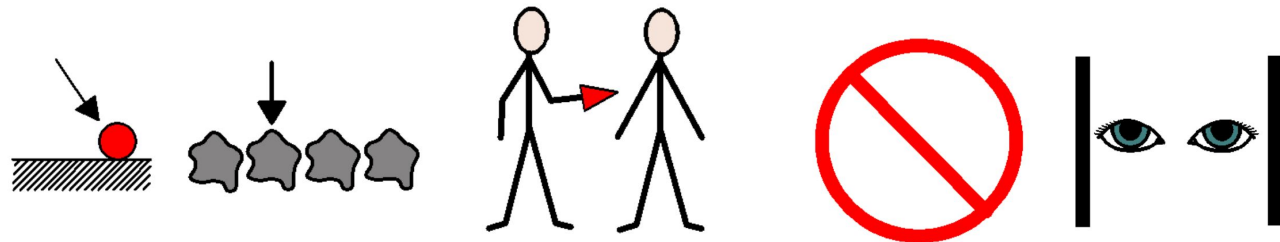

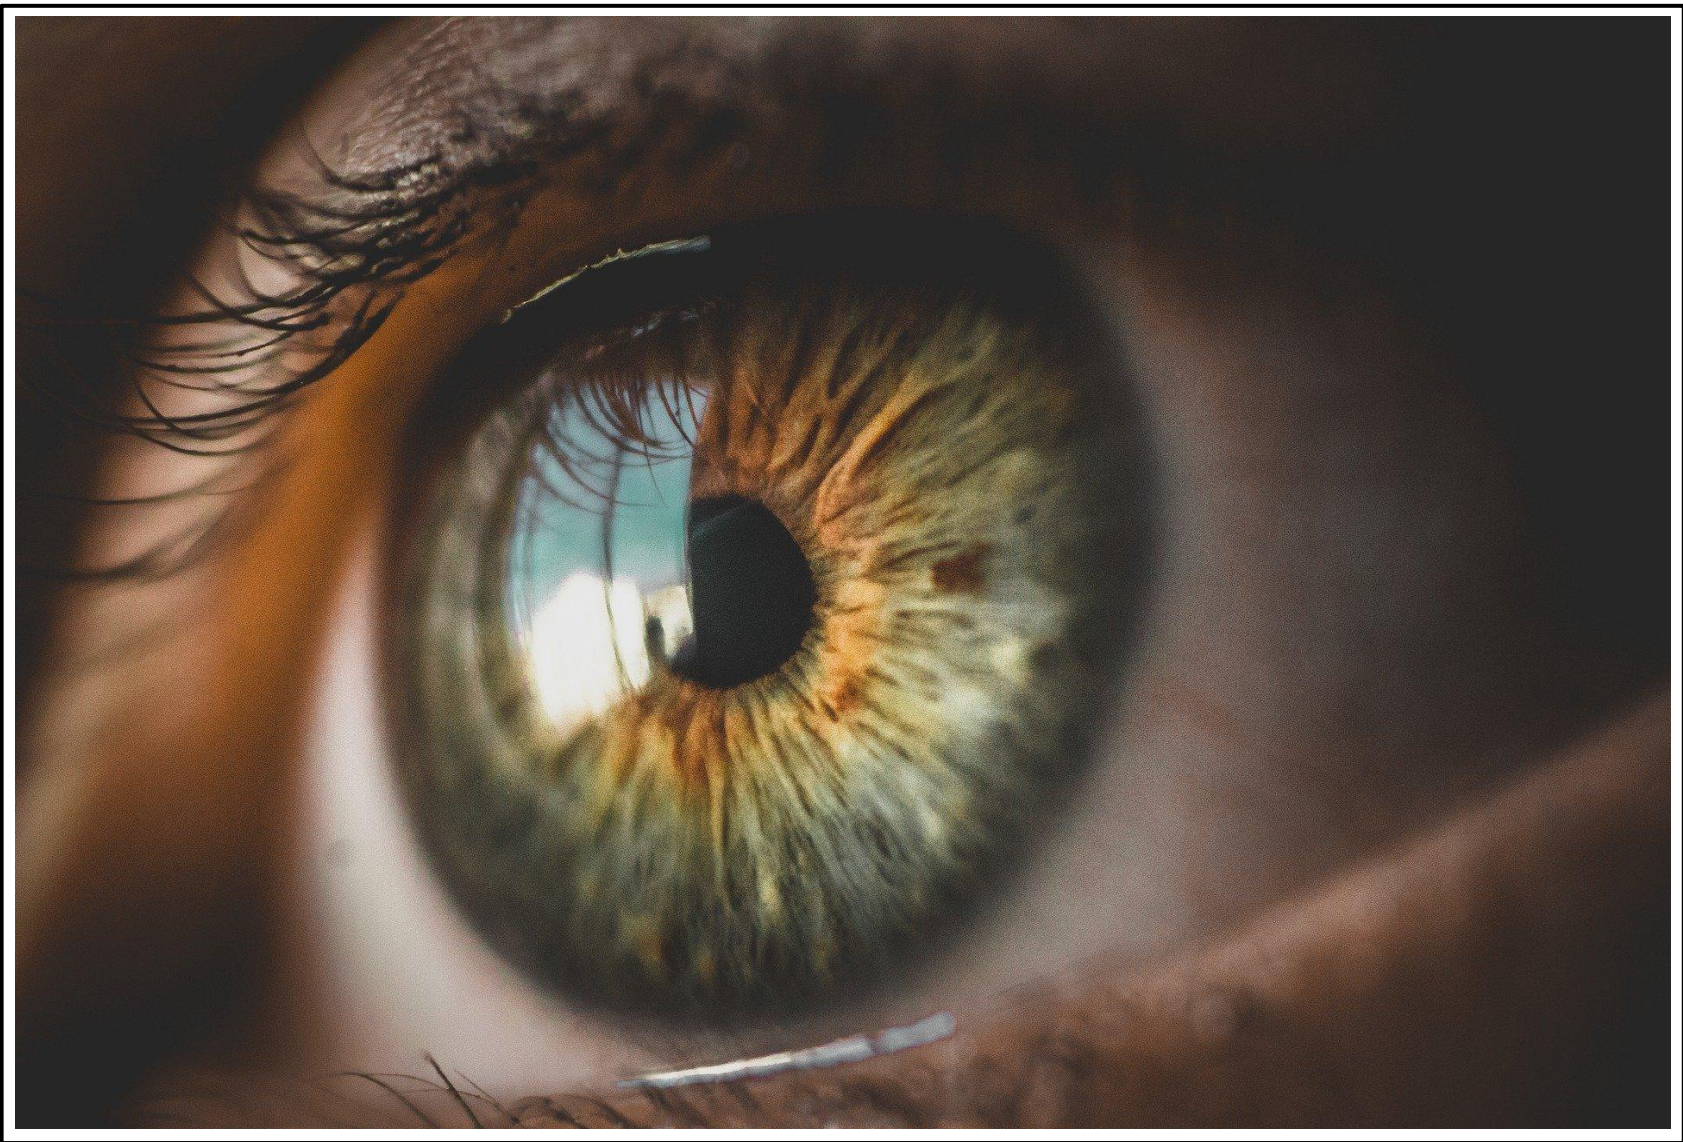

it's us together,

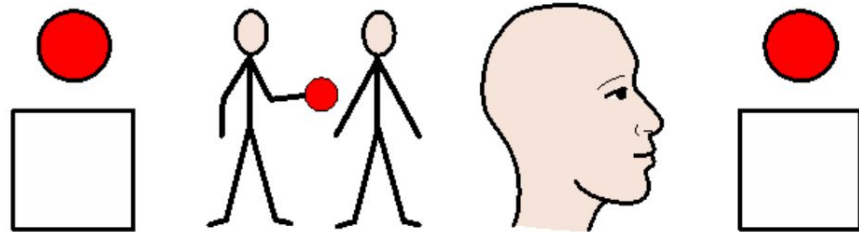

under the umbrella.

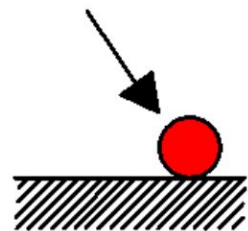

Up in the sky with the stars,

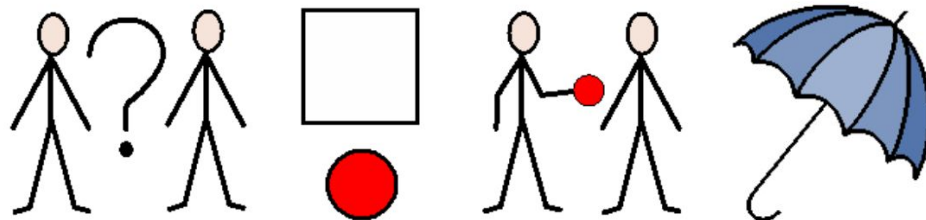

there's something you might not see...

but over your head, just above

there's an umbrella to protect those we love

Who's under your umbrella?
